NUTRIS tech™

Our high-quality NutriSmart products are in powder form, are nutritionally rich and functional, and can be used to produce innovative plant-based food products, as meat and dairy alternatives and egg substitutes.

In the last two years, a 49% increase in the consumption of plant-based products was recorded in Europe.

It is predicted that the total plant-based market could be worth as much as $162 billion by 2030, compared to $29.2 billion what it was worth in 2020.
